

Personal notes after March 7, 2025 incident when I hit a truck tire tread while traveling NB on I5 just before the 118 FWY.

250310

My boss has been singling me out for doing something wrong among 10 other employees, lately he is harassing me with contradictory instructions, accusing me of wrong doing for things that have no written policies and he seems to be taking retribution because I filed a complaint about him with Human Resources several months ago. What can I do? I am ready to quit. I am also 77 years old, i have worked for the company for 3 1/2 years and was always considered an exemplary employee by my boss. I am an hourly employee.

Feel singled out, harassed and retribution

Describe accident

Only concern i wasn't in L65

Shoulder injury

Requested to talk

Listened but preoccupied with work

Other employees interfere

Did not listen to me

Pivoted to reprimanding me for not in L65

Email of more restrictions

I suggested using cargo netting

Others suggested stopping backpack with seatbelt

Dismissed the idea without comment

Was wincing in pain

Never acknowledged my injury

Requested my whereabouts at 11:30

Purposely travel in L62 to test pACC, no Internet

Exchanged demeaning texts

Inquired how long in zone

Responded by text

No other drivers had to prove their whereabouts

No clear general instructions to stay in zone